SENIOR DIRECTORY 190

Actor, socialite, musician, quiet thinker . . . each of us has chosen his own purpose in life. For some, it is to grow to be rich and famous, and be listed among the annals of time with the great leaders of the day. Others will choose to express themselves through the arts, so that their beauty may mingle with the minds of men. And still others may seek a reputation of service to the community — some for commendable actions, others by notoriety. Still more will seek the glory of the warmth that they give to the ones they love, and this is all of heaven and earth for them.

Yet no matter how a man chooses to live, the choice is his by right of his existence. Each walk of life is equally important; the balance of all of them is the harmony of humanity.

Each man is a part of the nature which surrounds him — part sun, and moon, and stars, — and in this way, we are all a part of each other.

Let no man say, therefore, that one is better than the other, or that one be given more or less respect, but all of us, be loved as we love.

Walk with me

through these moments

Laugh with me . . .

Grow
with me . . .

Live with me . . .

Take My Hand . . .

And We Will Find

Ourselves . . .

And Each Other.

WSC Welcomes Dr. Randolph

This year Westfield State College welcomed a new president, Dr. Robert Randolph to its campus. Dr. Randolph, in an attempt to bridge the gaps and problems so long a part of the college, has opened his door to faculty and students alike in a sincere effort to create a more open and informal campus atmosphere. The college community welcomes Dr. Randolph, and hopes together we can make WSC fulfill its greatest potential.

In this series of pictures, Dr. Randolph holds an informal meeting with the girls of Scanlon Hall.

ROBERT L. RANDOLPH
President

Greetings to the Class of 1974!

We celebrate in these pages the basic purpose of a dynamic institution of higher learning, Westfield State College; that purpose being simply the expansion of knowledge. Knowledge comes in many forms and is enhanced in many ways. Knowledge is sympathy, charity and kindness. It is the foundation of both the love and the principles of human liberty.

Through classroom, field and club experience comes the many forms of learning -- activity. Students, faculty and staff converge and join in the continuing process of burning up of error to set free the light of truth.

This book is recorded experience and a product of history, of which reasoning and belief, no less than action and passion, are essential components.

View, read, remember and enjoy.

THE '73 Soccer Season for Westfield State has been the most exciting season in the college's history. The team's record of 15 wins, 3 losses, and 1 tie led to an invitation to the NCAA Regionals. Despite early defeat in the Regionals, the power and skill exhibited by the young team promises even greater expectations for the years to come. Our congratulations to the team for a rewarding season.

Cross Country

The desire, the need to keep going, in spite of too many hours and too little rest . . .

INVOLVEMENT is the word for participants and spectators, who join together in the mutual desire for success.

Qualities such as these not only make great individual athletes, but for the team, create a sense of pride and unity necessary for victory. Westfield's winning record of 6 wins and 3 losses in dual meets, deserves recognition for a fine season.

Lacrosse

The Laerosse Team's season proved to be one of great excitement and interest. Despite the record of two wins and nine losses, the games were played against such highly competitive teams as Brandeis, Boston State and Plymouth State. This year's co-captains were Rich Correia and Jim Reagan, with the most valuable player selected as Tony Viecheli. Next year's tri-captains are Rich Correia, Tom Shannon, and Emett Ashe.

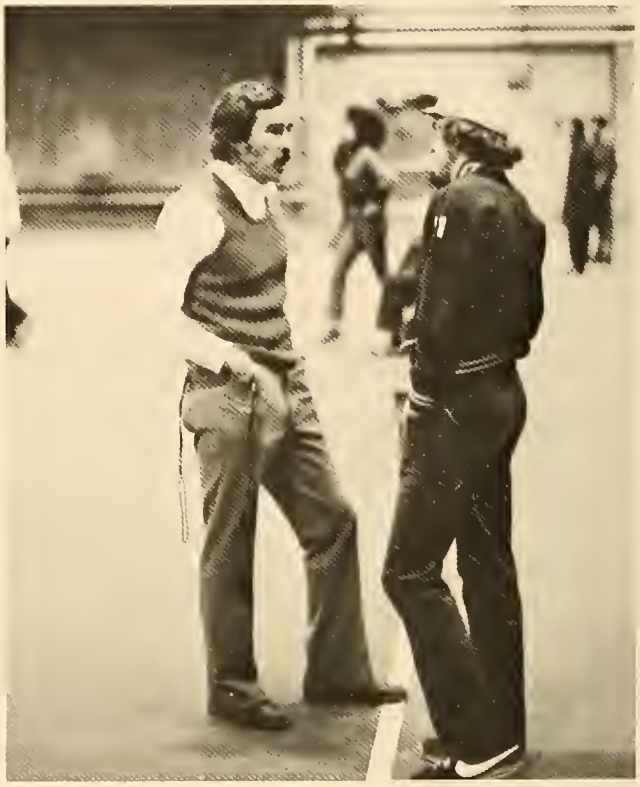
Winter Track



This year's team had a hard-working and rewarding season. Led by veteran tri-captains Bill Devine, Mike Parent, and Marty Pope, they went on to break nearly every existing Westfield record at a steady pace. In doing so, the team sent seven men to the All New England meet attesting to Westfield's improvement in this sport since it's beginning five years ago. This successful indoor season points to an optimistic spring season for Coach Gerry Gravel and his fine squad.

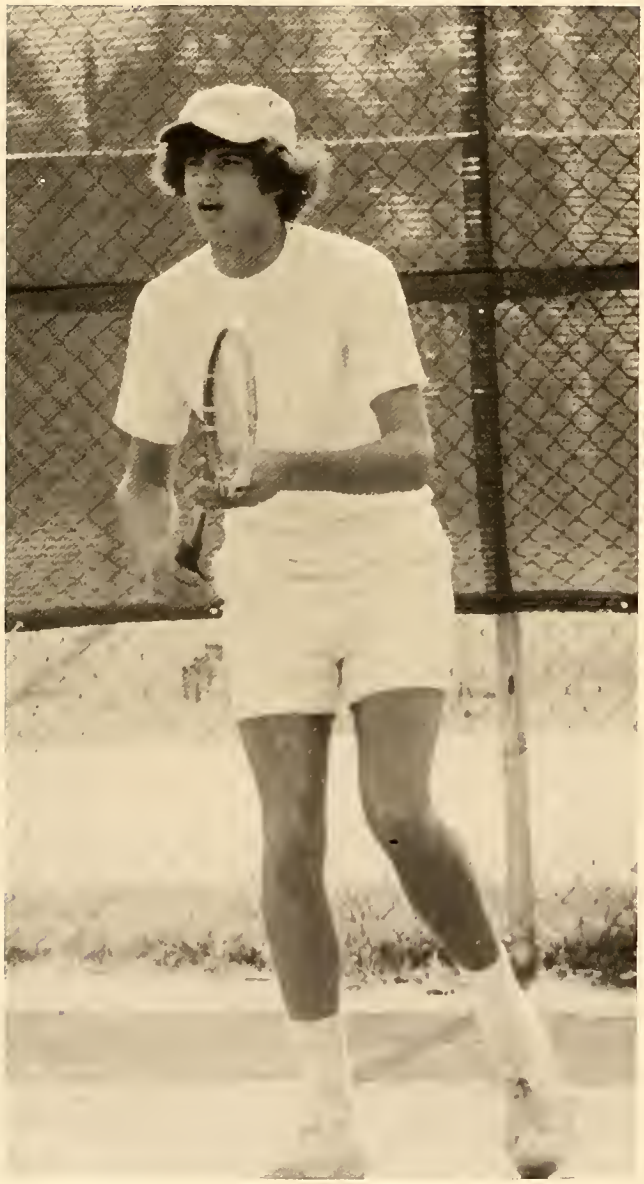
Spring Track

The Spring Track team achieved first place in the Massachusetts State College Athletic Conference. They stepped by their rival Worcester State to capture the college title. Special recognition should be given to, Bill Devine, Mike Parent, Marty Pope, Millard Crump, Steve Waslewski and Tom, "Ace" Clifford for their outstanding efforts. Next year the team will be ready for invitational meets at the new WSC track. Special thanks to coach Gravel for his devotion to team improvement this spring.

Men's Varsity Tennis

The Men's Varsity Tennis team, exhibiting power and skill in their highly successful season, proved to be one of the highlights of WSC's athletic program. The team, composed mainly of underclassmen, promises to offer opponents heavy competition next season.

Even though the team will lose such veterans as Steve Hiersche, Coach Larry French believes that next season WSC will be "the" team to beat. Congratulations to the team on their success and best wishes for more in the future!



This Pg. The emphasis is on form, perhaps facial expression helps too. Opp. Pg. Bot. The "little Hiersh" in action!

A team can only be as good as its players, but the added spirit of cheerleaders can heighten the excitement and enjoyment of any game. WSC has always been proud of its cheerleaders, and rightfully so. The hours of practice they spend each day can be seen in their showmanship and spirit on the court. Together they work to raise the crowd to its feet and to spur their team on to victory. The Varsity and Junior Varsity cheerleaders alike are of key importance in keeping WSC a winner, now and in the future.

Women's Field Hockey Team Has Disappointing Season

Although the Women's Varsity Field Hockey Team experienced a series of defeats and setbacks this year, they gained valuable knowledge and skills that can only become assets for the future. Coached by Miss Barbara Hart, the girls will give their whole efforts in forthcoming seasons, and surely will become winners in the game.

An increasing number of students crowd to the team's games, and this energetic group of girls seldom lets them down. They have proved their ability as individual players, and as a team present a strong challenge to visiting teams, with power and skill behind every move. They have been selected for several tournaments in the past, and this year went to Maryland in competition. Miss Vermillion coached a fine winning season.

Women's Basketball

This year the Women's Varsity Basketball has proved to be a highly competitive and skilled team. Starters include Sandy Dawson, Patty Sullivan, Dottie Rickus, Jackie Van Belle, Sue Morrissey, and Carol Thompson. The team, comprised mainly of underclassmen and coached by Martha Van Allen, promises to give WSC many more rewarding seasons.

Men's Varsity Basketball

Under the reins of head coach Matt Zunic, the WSC Owls went on to another winning season. Led on the court by senior Captain Tom Daviau, the Owls supplied area fans with many exciting thrills. Players contributing to WSC's success are forwards Tom Parks and George Yankowski, as well as the fast backcourt duo of Ben Adams and Osee Tolliver. The emergence of the Owls as a New England college division power promises many future seasons of excitement for the college.

Originality, concentration, determination, and endless hours of practice are all a part of perfecting skills. W.S.C. is proud of its women gymnasts, their achievements past and present, and in their continued efforts for the future.

Strength And Health Club

The WSC Strength and Health Club serves all students in the capacity of physical fitness, and through individual effort, seeks to foster strong minds and bodies.

Events of fall '73 saw members of the club engaged in highly competitive events. President John Pezzotte won the Eastern American Open in the 220 lb. class, the biggest event in Eastern United States. Kevin Brock placed second in the 220 lb. class and Jack Sonacki placed fourth in the 165 lb. class, of the Boston Open.

In the New England State Championships of 74', John Pezzotte, Fred Poulin, and Jack Sonacki all placed in their respective classes.

Ice Hockey

The newest sport to flash across the athletic horizon on campus . . . Bruins, watch out! The Hockey Club fielded a dedicated group of silver blades in the winter of '74. The premiere season augers a bright future for WSC hockey fans.

Women's Soft

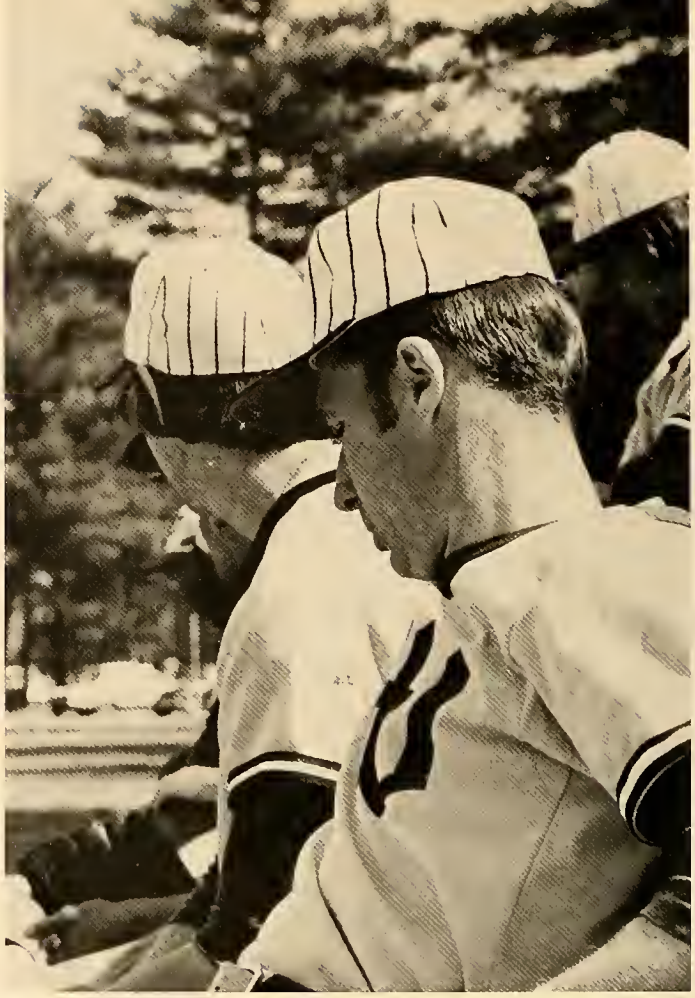
This year's softball team, coached by Dr. Fantasia, had a highly successful and rewarding season. With such valuable underclassmen players as Dorothy Rickus, the team can be assured of many more exciting, competitive seasons.

ɔall

This year, Women's Softball experienced a winning season with a record of six wins and four losses. Coached by Dr. Fantasia, and with the help of co-captains Ellen Sullivan and Mary Riley, the softball team played against the tough competition of such schools as Brown University, Bridgewater State, UMass, Keene State, and Holyoke Community College.

Although the team will lose seniors Mary Riley and Peg Emery, next year will find co-captains Ellen Sullivan and Shauna Gregory bringing another successful season to the college.

Baseball



This year the Westfield State College Varsity Baseball team completed its most successful season with a record of 25 wins and 15 losses. Coached by Mr. Ralph, the team turned down an invitation to the ECAC tournament in hopes of making the NCAA. Although their attempt was unsuccessful, the teams outstanding record is one of the highlights of the college sports season.

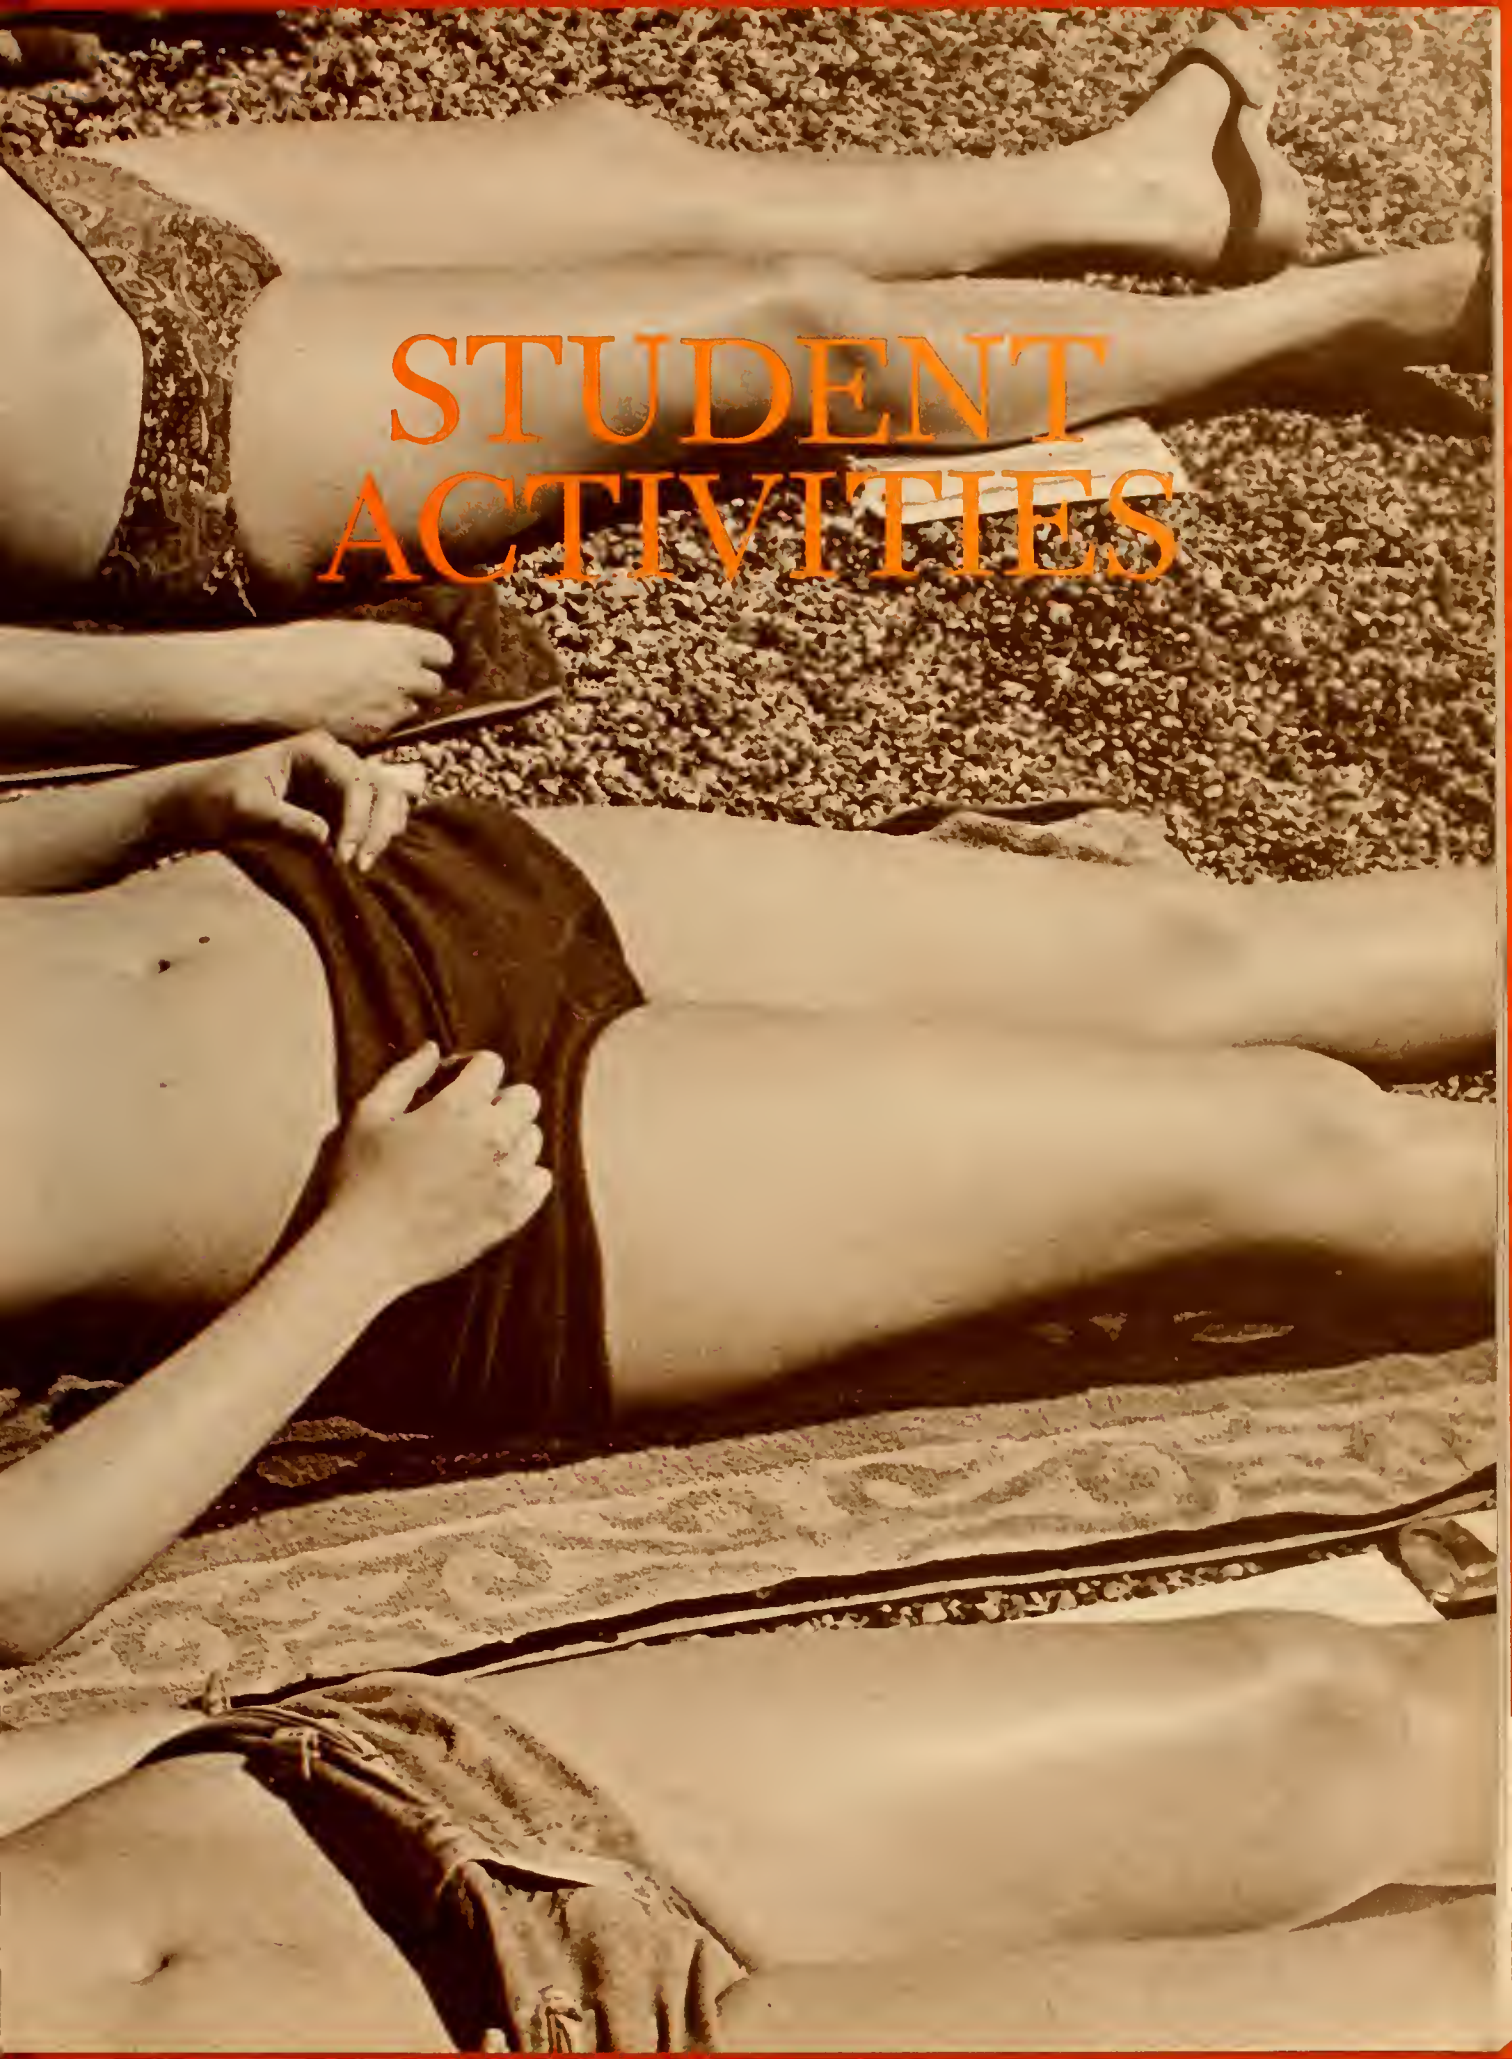
STUDENT ACTIVITIES



Senior Class Officers

Seniors are looking forward to graduation in the Spring, and the dedicated officers of this class are trying their hardest to make this day a warm and memorable event. In the meantime, however the class is counting the days by parties, — 200 days, 100 days, and 50 days is sure to follow. The ski trip to Killington was also sponsored for the enjoyment of wintry weather

Junior Class Officers

Marcelo Pantig, Kit Carson, Debbie McNamara, Debbie Nunes, Mary Chaffee, and Nancy Hughes.

Colosseum
West Springfield, Massachusetts

A successful turnout at Stanley Park for the annual Junior-Frosh picnic started the year off for the Junior Class. Along with a couple of beer bashes and a Halloween Party, the Juniors spent most of the first semester planning the gala Roman Holiday Ball, held on November at the Colosseum in West Springfield. Second semester brought exchange students and more parties at the SU.

Sophomore Class Officers

The Sophomore class has sponsored many successful events this year, including Slave Day, a 50's Dance, a raffle, and an exchange program which sent seven sophomores to colleges in Oklahoma, Mississippi, Arkansas, and Alaska.

Freshman Class Officers

With elections being held late in the first semester, it is difficult tor the Freshman class to orient itself until at least the middle of second semester.

Because of this, activities of the class are extremely limited. However in the near future the Freshman class does hope to hold a raffle and a dance to raise extra funds.

Student Senate

The purpose of Student Senate, as stated in Article II of its constitution, is to provide and promote a partnership in governance among all segments of the college community, and to ensure opportunities for all students to fully participate in campus-wide activities and organizations. Senate is divided into two councils, the executive and the legislative.

The members of the executive council, who are highly responsible for making senate what it is, are as follows:
President: Chris Asch
Vice-president: to be elected
Treasurer: Mike Rood
Secretary: John Harrington
Assistant Treasurer: to be elected
Assistant Secretary: Mary Ann Cauffield

Upper Right: Mike Rood, Cris Asch, and John Harrington. Bottom: What's the joke, Marcelo?

Scanlon Hall

Without a doubt, Scanlon Hall is the center of dormitory life. The reason why? Is it the plush roominess of the lounges? The homey atmosphere of dorm rooms? Or perhaps the friendly neighborhood shaving cream fights? Well, while all of the above may be true, the fact is where there's Scanlon, there's Harvey Allen, and we all know what that means . . .

Men's Dorm '74

Davis Hall, otherwise known as Hefner Heaven, prides itself on its cultural and social achievements. The institution of 24 hour parietals has made this dormitory one of the greatest learning centers of the campus. Topics of discussion may include anything from male chauvinism to interior decorating, while subjects for studying can range from music appreciation to Sue, Donna, Diane, Mary . . . etc.

One thing a Davis resident must learn if he is to survive successfully, is how to face competition — in dating, drinking and sliding in the bathroom. However, by the end of the year, the men have been separated from the boys.

Dickinson Dorm Council

Congratulations! . . . It's a housefather! The proud women of Dickinson Hall were blessed this January, when Gary Hodge came to preside over the activities and events of the dorm. Seniors and alumni have seen many changes in the college in the past few years, but this is one of the most unusual. The dorm director is not only the first housefather in the dormitory history of the college, but he is a man . . . in a woman's dormitory! Right on, Dickinson Hall!

Lambda Iota Tau

Lambda Iota Tau, the English honor society is one of the more active groups on campus, sponsoring many exciting events for the college community.

During the first semester, LIT held a "get acquainted" session for English majors and faculty. A series of colloquims started with a panel discussion of The Grapes of Wrath, and by the end of the semester, LIT had introduced five new members into the society. Second semester proved even more active for LIT and its members. Professor Walter Gibson of UMass lectured on "How to learn about your students from their first theme". In April, Dr. Leslie Fiedler spoke on the "Death and Rebirth of the Novel", and Richard Wordsworth, great-grandson of William Wordsworth, gave a poetry reading of the elders works. Another colloquim on "Women in Literature" was held, as well as the movie showing of "Lord of the Flies" and a dramatic presentation of "The Diary of Adam and Eve", performed by the Alpha Omega Players.

Advisor, Professor George Curtin; President, Scott Lang; Vice President, Brent Northrup; Secretary-Treasurer, Maureen Flynn. Special salutes to Mary Ann Piasta, who arranged the lectures and Maureen Flynn. Professor Curtin, the advisor, kept Lambda on the proper path and Professor George Camara was always around to clean up.

Phi Alpha Theta

Phi Alpha Theta is the honor society that gives recognition to those History and Social Science Majors who have achieved scholastic excellence in History as well as have maintained an over all above average cumulative record. This year Phi Alpha Theta has sponsored several speakers and has sent representatives to Regional Meetings. Advisor to the club, Dr. Frederick Harling, read at the national convention in San Francisco, and was elected to the International Board of Phi Alpha Theta.

Officers are President Ann Cleary, Vice-President Gary Balthazar, Secretary Linda Boisselle, and Treasurer Edward Horzec. Members include Marie Albano, David Boilard, Joseph Carvalho III, David Coffey, Pamela Dowd, Paul Dubovils, William Dunlap, Gary Gagenheimer, Paul Hynek, Roger Milsop, Edward Morin, and Miriam Morse.

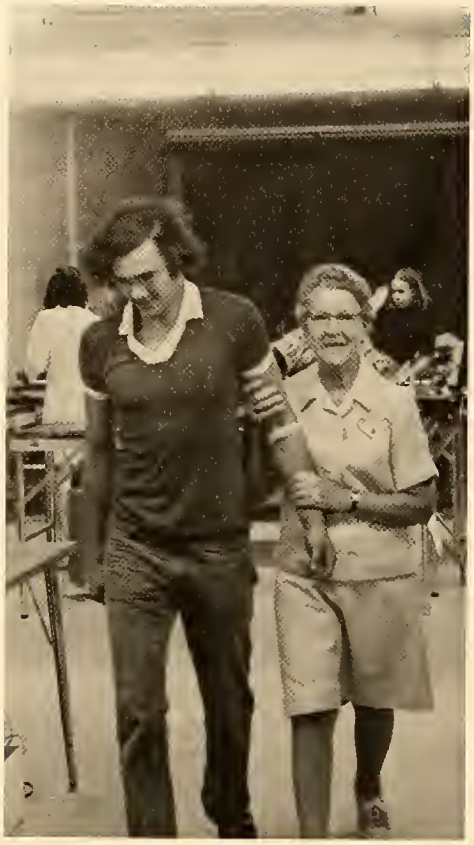
Biology Club

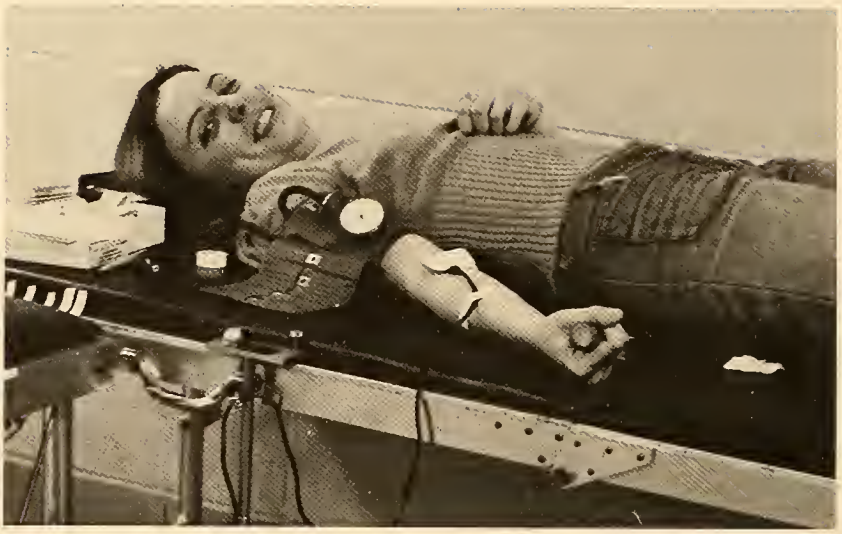
The Biology Club, supervised by Dr. Phillips, is an organization greatly concerned with the problems of ecology, conservation studies, as well as man's interaction with his physical world.

Members of the Club have visited various Science seminars in the area to discuss environmental questions. Movies, lectures, and speakers have been sponsored in an attempt to supply information to all about the use and possible saving measures for the earth's natural resources.

"There is one ocean, with coves having many names; a single sea of atmosphere, with no coves at all; a thin miracle of soil, alive and giving life; a last planet; and there is no spare." — D. R. Brower

Circle K





One of the most active and vital service organizations of WSC is Circle K. This year projects servicing the college community included three visits of the Bloodmobile, services for the Freshmen Picnic and Alumni Reunion, and the highly successful Dance Marathon which raised $1900 for Multiple Schlerosis. In the Westfield area, Circle K has contributed to the volunteer work done at Noble Hospital and the Mental Health Clinic. Officers of Circle K are President Zig Sieczowski, Vice-President John Burke and Secretary Treasurer Joe Ryan.

Student Council for Exceptional Children

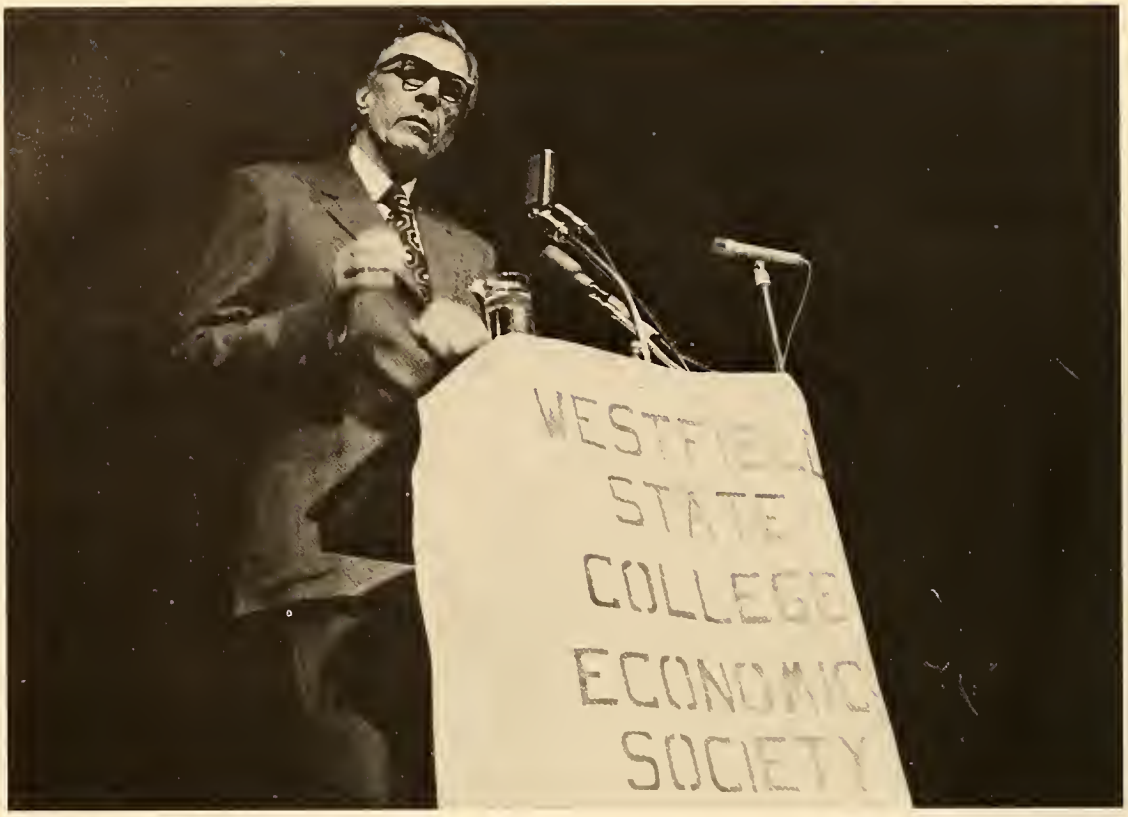
S.C.E.C. is an organization composed primarily of special education majors. The purpose of this organization is to promote the welfare and education of exceptional children and youth. S.C.E.C. is also involved in the development of professional standards in its members and serves as a medium to present different aspects of special education through speakers and community projects.

C.E.C. is a professionally oriented group which works with exceptional children and sponsors such activities as tutorial programs and yearly Christmas parties for the special education classes in the Westfield School System.

Student National Education Association

The Student National Education Association of Westfield State College is the largest education organization on campus. Affiliated with the Massachusetts Teachers Association and the National Education Association, SNEA aims include education conferences, programs, and lectures. SNEA has approximately 50 members and its officers are President Gayle Hendry, Vice-President Joanne Kosiba, Secretary Janet Buczek, and Treasurer Michele Finley, with Dr. Mark Shibles as faculty advisor.

Top: Secretary Janet Buczek, President Gayle Hendry, Vice-President Joanne Kosiba. Bottom: Barb Murray, Marie Czurko, Rae Crandell, Sue Remalard, Lynn Demaris, Barb Tower.



This year the Economics Club offered WSC a variety of events and guest speakers, including the celebrated economist John Kenneth Galbraith, seen at top and bottom. The enthusiasm and concern of the club will prove to be positive factors in its future growth.

Economics Society

The Economics Society has sponsored a series of lectures and speakers for the college community. Recently Ralph Nader, former Senator Fred Harris and John Kenneth Galbraith have visited the WSC campus.

The Society also sponsored the help to establish a chapter of WMPIRG on campus, as well as sponsoring a Christmas party and a picnic.

Officers included President Gary Cahill, Vice-president Bill Robbie, Treasurer Damian Albano, Secretary Janet McEachan, Assistant Secretary Sue Kumor, and Advisor Dr. Bellico.

Footlighters

Each semester, the Footlighters present WSC with one major dramatic production. In "The Time of Your Life" this group of highly talented, professional students and faculty brought to the community laughter and serious thought through the fine acting and characterizations portrayed by people including Debbie Baker, Steve Stanton, George Curtin, and Rita Rodrigues

This year the Footlighters presented WSC with a wide variety of theater productions and personalities. First semester saw the play "The Time of Your Life" and a visit by the well-known make-up artist Jack Stein. Seven members of Footlighters also attended the New England Theater Conference held at Tufts this year.

For the second semester, "Biedermann and the Firebugs" was presented, as well as twelve student directed workshops, and visits by seven touring groups.

Advised by Frank E. Mello, the Footlighters is a theatrical organization comprised of over one hundred members, involved in all the aspects of theater, including props, costumes, make-up, and lighting, as well as acting. Officers this year were President Debbie Andwood, Vice-President Kathy Foley, Treasurer Barb Blinn, and Secretary Rita Rodrigues.

The Concert Choir And Chorale

The Concert Choir and Chorale of WSC, directed by Mr. Donald Prindle, is a highly talented and professional group of young singers. This year they have participated in the Christmas Concert and are planning several spring concerts. Their musical achievements and abilities will continue to be a great source of entertainment for the college body.

Girl's Glee Club

Under the direction of Ken Manzer, the Girl's Glee Club presents WSC with a variety of musical presentations. Featuring light and popular music, the club has sung at the annual Christmas concert, as well as visiting hospitals with holiday carolling. Another concert is scheduled for the college in the spring and the Club plans to also sing for Southwick High School.

Officers of the Club are President Monica Smith, Vice-President Debbie Dow, and Secretary-Treasurer Barbara Strom.

Ken Manzer

The gift of musical ability is one that can only be heard to be appreciated. To bring life from notes on paper, to capture the essence of a composition, and to spark the imagination of an audience is an art few can master. Ken Manzer is such an artist. In any music, from the Beatles to classical masterpieces, Ken Manzer creates a world of feeling and beauty, a world of harmony that echoes long after a performance. Whether it be the gentle strains of "Yesterday" or the vibrating power of "Promises, Promises", Mr. Manzer gives us the sounds and soul of his music. His concert performances are a gift of love, an experience to remember and cherish.

Mens Chorus

The Men's Chorus, directed by Mr. Ken Manzer, performs throughout the school year often in co-ordination with the Women's Chorus. First semester the Men's Chorus sang at the Bates Cafeteria Christmas Party, and for the spring they have planned several more concerts with the Women's Chorus, and a performance at Southwick High School. Officers of the chorus are President Paul Galey and Vice-President Harvey Greenhut.

Madrigals

One of many gifted musical groups on campus, the Madrigals present WSC with the beauty and the depth music was meant to offer. Dr. Floyd Corson, director of the group, brings to the entire college community concerts for all occasions. The Madrigals have sung for service organizations, as well as having performed in WSC Christmas concerts. The talent displayed by these young singers can only mean more enjoyment for all in the future.

Symphonic Wind Ensemble

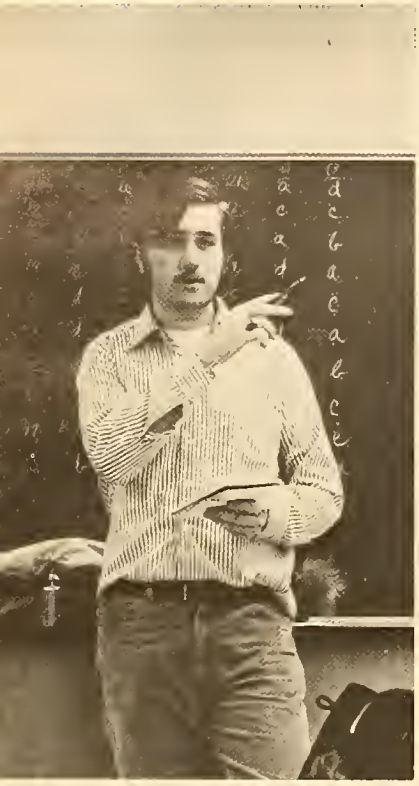
These pictures reveal only a small part of the work that the Symphonic Wind Ensemble does in order to prepare themselves for a concert. Under the direction of Mr. Peter Demos, WSC is assured many more enjoyable evenings of music.

Mr. Peter Demos, director of the Symphonic Wind Ensemble, gives the Westfield College community the opportunity to relax and appreciate the musical talents of the ensemble throughout the entire school year. Concerts have been held at Juniper Park and in the surrounding area, as to offer all the chance to hear and join in the musical mood of the evening.

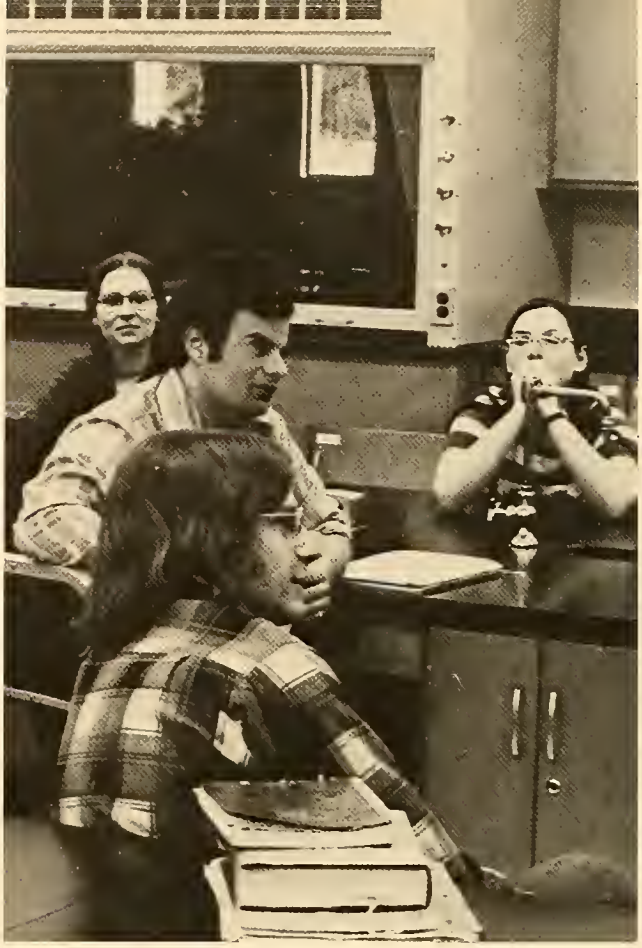
Jazz Ensemble

Under the direction of Dr. Donald Bastarche (upper left), the Jazz Ensemble tours the greater New England area, giving concerts for various towns and organizations. They have played for the Rotarians, as well as performing in the annual WSC Christmas show, and will also appear at the inauguration of Dr. Randolph.

Outing Club



The Outing Club, an organization which travels throughout the New England area, takes its members out on backpacking, mountain climbing, and survival excursions. Under guidance of Dr. Lovejoy, the club enjoys camping and traveling, while learning about outdoors.



Photography Club

The Photography Club is an instructional organization concerned with photographic techniques and procedures. Presently the club is involved in training members in darkroom procedure and use of the 35mm camera. Besides presenting various movies and lectures to the college community, this year the club is sponsoring a photography contest in co-ordination with the student art exhibit scheduled for the spring of '74. Officers of the club are President Paul W. O'Brien, Vice-President Jim Shuffleton, And Secretary Mary Ellen Menard, with Dr. Heartl as Advisor.

Philosophy Club

"One will sometimes meet with . . . perfection and sometimes happiness, here moral feeling, there fear of God, a little of this and a little of that in a marvelous mixture." — Kant

Psychology Club

The Psychology Club offers students the chance to observe and participate in activities that are of psychological interest. The Club presents a variety of films, lectures, and speakers that are to value to the entire college community.

Student International Meditation Society

The Student's International Meditation Society Club is an organization providing experience and background in the technique and philosophy of Transcendental Meditation. Currently, SIMS has 25 members and is increasing rapidly. Meetings are held weekly. Regular practice of Transcendental Meditation may enable a person to enjoy living in the sustained freedom of increasing achievement and fulfillment. The technique is as ancient as mankind and universal in its application.

President: Linda Haska; Vice-president: Barbara Deitrich; Secretary-Treasurer: Judy DuPlease.

Karate

Karate, a popular and growing form of martial arts, has found its way into the WSC community. Led by Sensai John Piccolomini, the class drills in various kata (forms) and techniques of the art of Goshu-ru, Japanese Karate.

Radio Club

WWED died shortly after Thanksgiving break and left the campus without any radio station. Then it finally happened — WSKB FM hit the campus by surprise in the spring of '74, bringing stereo music into the dorms and the greater Westfield area.

For next semester WSKB will bring news from the Associated Press, Casey Kasem's American Top 40, and a greater variety of programming.

100 Days Party

It's countdown time again, and this year the Carriage Lounge was the setting for the seniors' 100 Days Party. Beer, music, and a large turnout of the class of 74 added up to a great evening of fun and good times.

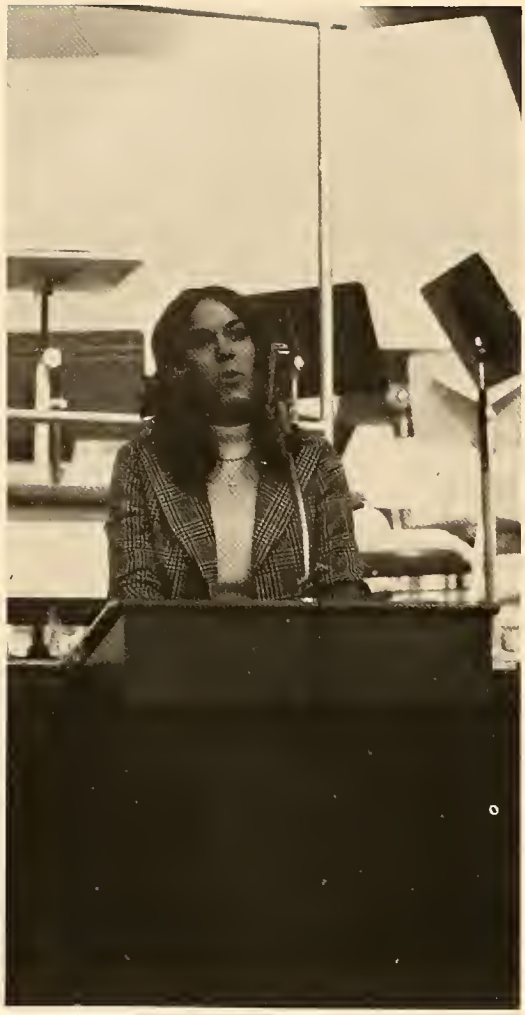
Freshman Parents Day



On Freshmen Parent's Day, WSC welcomes the parents of freshmen as heartily as it does the new students themselves. Freshmen guide their parents around the campus, and with the available assistance of upperclassmen, point out the various aspects and opportunities of college life. A concert held in Dever Auditorium, followed by refreshments served in the Student Union, complete the day.

Jr.-Frosh. Picnic

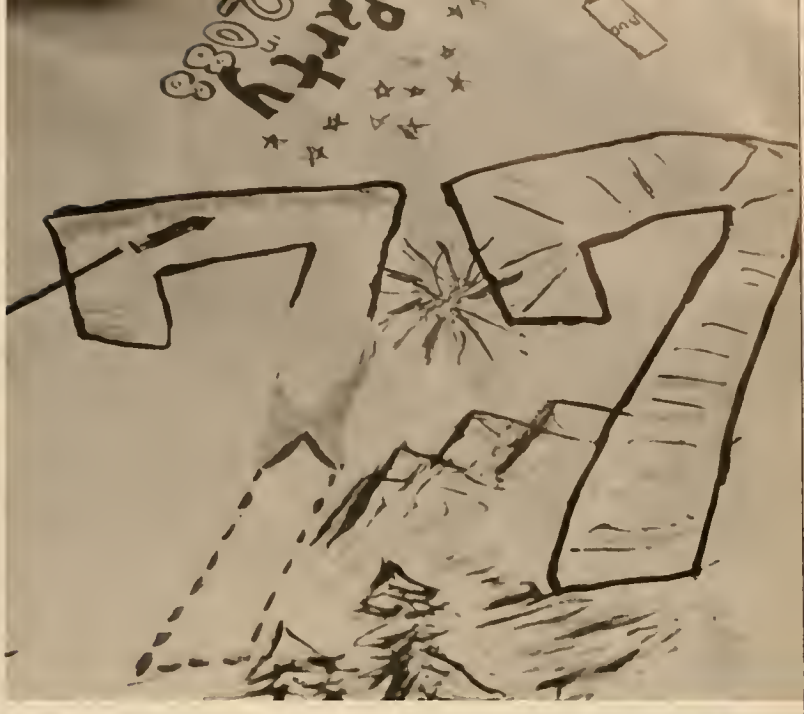
Never let it be said that Harvey Allen is a failure in the kitchen — but there is one night a year that the cafe is so empty, you'd think it was closed for repairs . . . and that is the night several hundred hungry juniors and freshmen head for Stanley Park and the annual Junior-Freshmen Picnic.

The wide open space of the Park is the perfect place for the two classes, as they battle each other in games of tug-of-war, dodge ball, and who's first in the food line!

Entertainment, good talk, and good fun make the picnic more successful every year — good enough to find a few seniors there too!

Freshman

Orientation



Apprehension, anxiety, insecurity . . . these are some of the problems that confront college bound freshmen during the months previous to this new experience. The freshmen orientation program, with the co-operation of all factions of the college community, is designed to ease these apprehensions by providing information, academic or emotional guidance if needed, and social activities.

The finest innovation in this year's program was the presentation by S.E.C.S., and guest speaker Nancy Callahan. Swimming, a Monte Carlo Night, an outdoor picnic, and a record hop were also popular events held this summer.

EXPIRES SEPTEMBER 1974

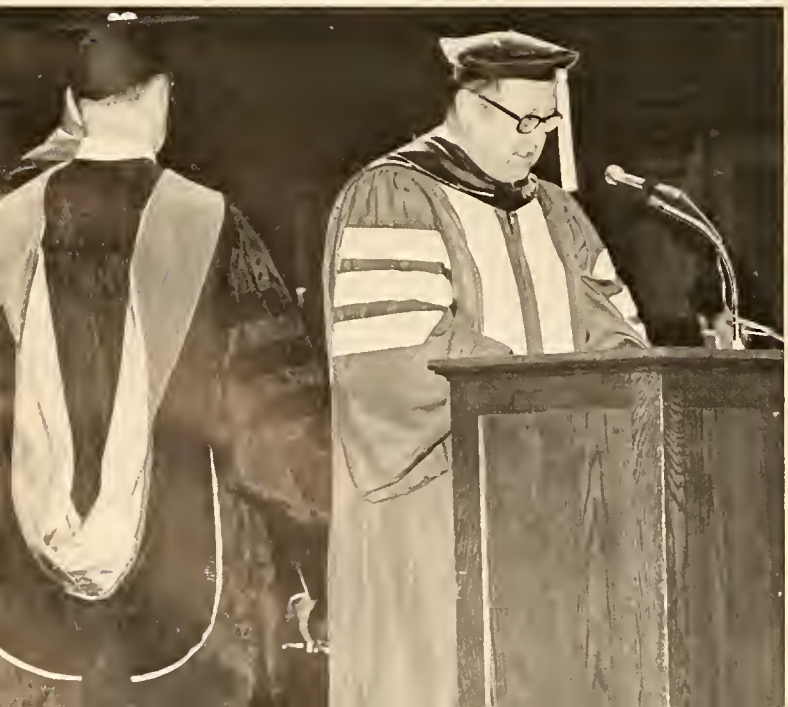
Inauguration

The Inauguration of Robert L. Randolph as thirteenth President of Westfield State College took place on Sunday, April 28, 1974, at the Springfield Municipal Auditorium. Educators from all over New England, including the Presidents of a dozen area colleges were present to participate in the installation of the new President and celebrate the renewed effort toward the goal of quality higher education for Westfield State which this occasion represented.

Dr. Glenn A. Olds, President of Kent State University and former President of Springfield College, the keynote speaker, gave a moving speech on "Leadership in Today's Higher Education." Citing the desire on the part of today's students for moral committment, Olds recounted the telephone call from the mother of one of the indicted national guardsmen in which she spilled out her anguish. "I told her a university is dedicated to truth; there will be no healing at this place until we know the truth."

Dr. Randolph's inaugural address, "The Strategy of Change," dealt with the realities of today's higher education as he sees them in terms of budgetary restraint, growing competition for students, and the "new constituency of workers, housewives, retirees, and minorities who must be attracted to higher education to keep it growing."

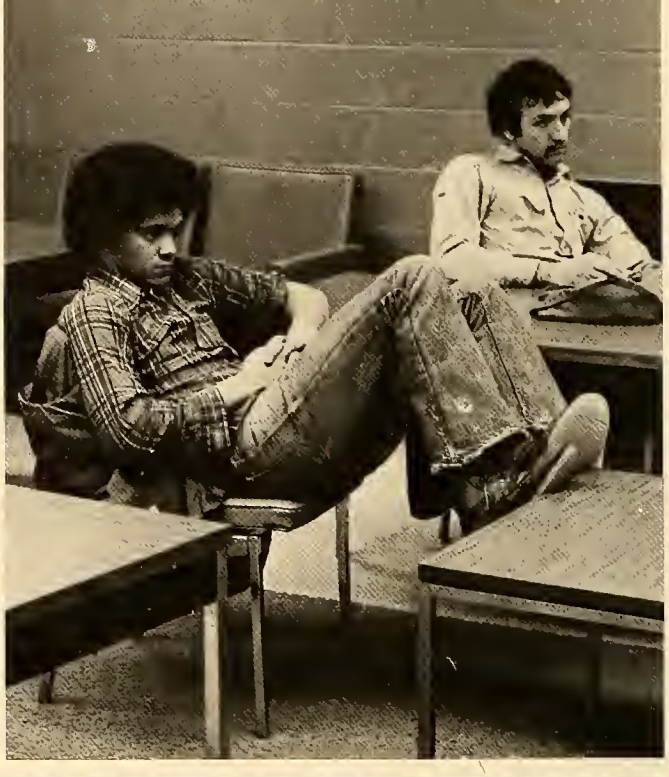
The Inaugural festivities were highlighted with a most successful Inaugural Ball held on Saturday evening, April 27, at the Tekoa Country Club, where everyone danced to the swinging sounds of the Westfield State Jazz-Rock Ensemble.



S. E. C. S.

The purpose of S. E. C. S. is to offer students a center on campus capable of providing information and counseling in such areas as veneral disease, birth control, and human sexuality. Referral services to clinics and doctors are offered as part of the organization's work. S. E. C. S. has sponsored a series of films and lectures in the past, as well as a highly successful abortion debate between students and faculty.

Hopefully S. E. C. S. will be able to expand its facilities and activities in the future, offering even more to students.



It is the main concern of S.E.C.S. to discuss and counsel students in several issues and problems. Meetings and debates as seen on these pages deal with the questions of birth control, abortion, and similar topics.

The Third World

The Third World Organization was developed to promote awareness within the members and community of Westfield State College to the cultures and heritage of the minority races of the world. The membership of this organization is composed of the black students of this campus. Awareness is shown through activities, such as, art festivals, concerts, lectures, inter-collegiate festivities, and a cultural library.

It devotes itself to the educational factors of minority individuals. Being able to read is a major part of development in an individual's education, but being able to witness through sight, sound, touch, and taste of another culture's life is the greatest education to exist in today's society.

Slave Day

Slave day is always one of the most successful and relaxing days in September, when anyone can own a freshman slave. The Student Union becomes the Roman marketplace, and while upperclassmen bid various prices, freshmen entertain the crowds with stunts, dances, and other hidden talents.

Profits go to the sophomore class. Upperclassmen become kings for a day, and freshmen — well, just wait 'til next year!

Halloween Dance

Halloween Party

October is just not October without a little witchcraft, and once again, WSC proved good times are what you make them, as they paraded to the SU dressed as everything from soda cans to Raggedy Anns. Festivities included music, beer, and many surprises for all!

200 Days Party

The Class of '74 presented the 200 Days Party in the Student Union this year, and the seniors did their best to keep the evening entertaining. Music was provided by our own various student DJ's, whose talents could rival your radio favorite! With free beer and plenty of good sounds, little else was needed to make the seniors' evening complete.

Roman Holiday Ball

The elegant Colosseum in West Springfield became the setting for the highly enjoyable Christmas Ball this past year. An open bar, hors d'oeuvres, and the fantastic sounds of the dynamic Desatations, set the pace for the several hundred people attending the Ball. Faculty members and administrators alike, including Dr. Randolph, joined in festivities sponsored by the Junior Class, and danced the evening away in the true spirit of Christmas.

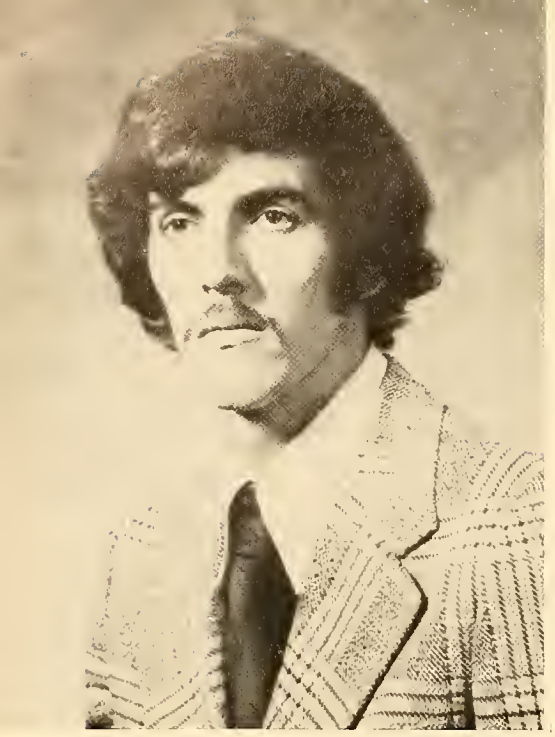
Awards Banquet

The elegant decor of Chez Josef was once again the setting for the annual Student Senate Awards Banquet, held on the sixteenth of May. The nights festivities included fine food and drink, an excellent musical entertainment, as well as the award ceremonies. But this year's unique feature was not to be found on the table or from the podium — it was on the dance floor in the form appropriately dubbed "the bump". No prizes could be given for the best in "bumping"; but the awards were in the smiles of the dancers.

Senior Ball

Although the Spring Ball is usually one of the gala affairs of second semester, this years Senior Ball was sadly disappointing. The Willow Glen, which hosted the affair, was closely packed with perturbed Westfield State members, annoyed with constricted bar service and empty hors d'oeuvres pans. An excellent band, Calliope, saved the evening of May 10 from almost total disaster and even brought a few smiles to the disheartened Senior Class officers.

SENIORS



There are mirrors to reflect the world's beauty and sadness — all show a unique side to the same puzzle. We are each mirrors, bright with laughter and love, giving more light to others. Still we are fragile glass figures who can be scratched or shattered. Each mirror possesses many qualities. Beyond the physical, there is an unexplored part, hidden and often ignored in favor of the visible. Within these walls, lies the very soul of the mirror. It is easy to make believe it does not exist, and yet to deny it, is to deny the mirror life. For the light of each of us comes from within . . . it glows from our essence and is so easy to forget. To give a mirror life means understanding what and who you are; to see what you mean to others and yourself. Once a person realizes this, he is a beautiful home of light, outshining the sun. We are each mirrors — see the warmth and worth inside the shiny glass.

Life you amaze me . . .
Your constant movement is the spark of my soul, and I thrive on your mysteries.
You give me feelings and needs, the desire to seek out and relish each second.
You give me soaring joys, childish whims, lonely silence, regrets too many to name . . . but each with a special touch and memory.
I embrace your goodness, your glory with fervor and gratitude.
I embrace your people, the wanderers, the proud, the trapped . . . with rich lasting vitality.
I taste the beauty of failure and keep the tears locked away as reminders.
Life, you are my theater, and I, I am only too willing to play a part.

Give me the songs and stories of your heart and I will open new worlds of feeling up to your eyes and arms . . .
I can wrap your dreams in laughter and make you cry over forgotten memories.
With my words, I will weave you a tale of distant places and faraway castles no one has ever touched.
I will bring you the faces of people, people hungry for love and tears, anxious to give and teach you how to smile.
Let me be the wise man, the clown, the fool, the one who understands without words . . . the one who feels the pain in your soul and leads you to the sweet joys of silence . . .
Give me your dreams and I will breathe color into them, giving life to the darkened corners of hope.
Together we will be wise and sad, two lonely drifters wishing for dawn's light and the gentle winds of the sky.
Together we shall find tomorrow, and embrace the world as a friend.

I have walked along the roads of time, and felt the rising eall of life moving, breathing, trembling within me.
There has been musie in these days, golden songs and fragile memories sung to me by haunting faees . . .
There have been moments of dreams, of aehievement and failure . . .
I long to reaeh the souls of those who believe, and hold the hands of those who are afraid to try . . .
With gentle love, I remember all the yesterdays, the years of growth and ehange . . .
I ean smile and ery freely over such days . . .
But tomorrow, yes tomorrow, open your door wide for my arms and give me room to spread my life aeross the world's riehness . . .

Looking in your eyes
Kind of heaven eyes
Closing both my eyes
Waiting for surprise
To see the heaven in your eyes is not so far
Cause I'm not afraid to try and get it
To know love and beauty never known before
I'll leave it up to you and show it

Looking at your hands
Hands can understand
Waiting for the chance
Just to hold your hand
A touch of rain and sunshine make the flowers grow
Into a lovely smile that's blooming
And it's so clear to me that you're a dream come true
There's no way that I'll be losing

And golden lady, golden lady
I'd like to go there
Golden lady, golden lady
I'd like to go there
Take me right away

Been feeling my way out for a while now —
Seems like I've been trying so long.
Time has passed me
And the lazy days are turning into shadows
It's been worth the time I know
Though there were days I didn't want to own.

The people and their moods are all so different and that's what makes it good.
But here and there and back again —
each times offered me a little bit more,
and I love the free and easy charm of living.

I've learned through the faces —
I've taught and been taught —
Some friends and enemies come and leave
Sometimes without ever knowing why.
I've been a part of the place,
part of the laughter and brawls.
Still, I've been me,
though not-all-together you.
I feel things my way and,
that's how I've come to live.

To look at people optimistically and hope that they are human, this is my goal. If people were to care about each other, you could work out almost anything.

The people of Westfield State College could make this place a real good school, if people would just get away from the little things which aren't nearly as important as the serious questions which need probing and action; health issues and academics for examples.

The college has acquired many new changes and policies since we entered in the fall of 1970. In fact, our class has probably seen the most change in the history of the college. The underclassmen should take a lesson from what our class has done, and seen in these past years. They should not take lightly the advantages gained in these past years. Student rights, alchohol on campus and visiting hours in the dorms, were so hard for us to fight for. The struggle did exist — I hope the students keep this in mind and try not to take these things for granted.

There will be more students coming in the fall, and many years following. These new students along with the existing Westfield State Students, have the potential to make this school the really fine place that it can be.

I hope they do so. I'd like to be proud to call WSC my Alma Mater.

There's a new feeling in me —
born of laughter and fear keeping me moving, always moving on . . .
There are faces to be met
Open free faces stirring in my mind
Should I keep them silent?
Hey tomorrow, wait just another moment till
I'm sure I've lived today —
Don't want to miss a smile or tear . . .
There's a humming in my brain and I'm singing
out to unknown days
Waiting for my shadow to catch me — the two of us just living well.
This time has passed away
I've touched the minds, the hearts of those closed souls with my open eyes — now's the time today brings a new dream to me and I'm moving out to greet it.
Inside lies the past of grateful days, and with sweet regret
I leave for the sun, for the sky armed with dream's and love.

Convocation

Jacqueline Zimmerman

Convocation — a ceremonial assembly of members of a college or university. It is the last formal meeting of the senior class. Fully dressed in caps and gowns, faculty, administration and seniors parade into Dever Auditorium for last minute instructions and best wishes. 27 members of the senior class were presented Wisdom and Merit awards. Class advisors Mrs. Butler and Mr. Ralph were also presented gifts for their dedication to the class of '74.

Graduation

It rained — it stopped — it poured. Diplomas were given out and not given out; parents were lost in the shuffle for shelter. All the planning of the class officers was all washed up on May 26th. But yet, it may be the most memorable of all graduations held at Westfield State . . . no matter what those memories may include.

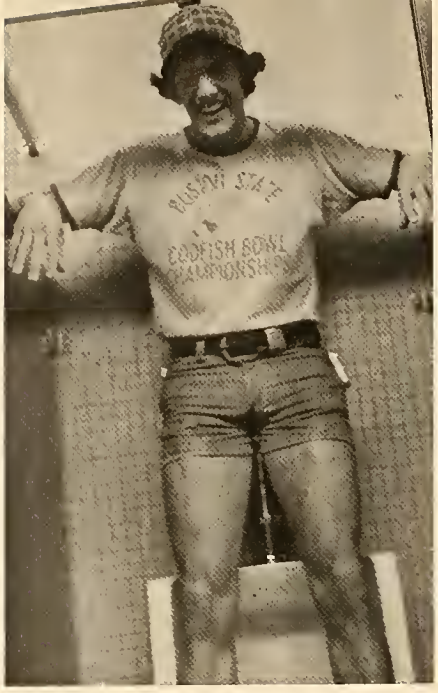
Many thanks to the people at Hausamann Studios, especially to "Crazy Dan" for the photography instructions, materials and the all around excellent service that he provided. Dan Koziol was always there when there were those "rush" jobs that needed attention. Our thanks to him and the Studio.

The Ameriean Yearbook company has once again provided Westfield Sate with the finest quality yearbook at the best possible price. Don Lendry, our account representative, spent many an evening laboring through pages helping us meet those crucial deadlines. American Yearbook Co. and Tekoa '74 have a valuable asset. We are indebted to him for his efforts.

Tekoa — Staff



Tekoa

The creation of a yearbook, as a journal of the activities of the year, requires the co-ordination of three equally important segments of a yearbook staff — layout and design, photography and literary. Tekoa '74 was very fortunate to have outstanding representatives in each of these fields. Because of their cooperation and genius, and that of their staffs, the Tekoa '74 was entered into National Competition in five areas.

As a staff, we were not satisfied in just finishing the job we started out to do; we improved, added, subtracted, altered; we left many suggestions and ideas for hopefully, an even better book; Tekoa '75. But a wonderful thing happened on the road from September to May; we became more to each other than just staff members — we fought with each other, faced our frustrations together and we helped each other. We lifted our glasses to each other in celebrations . . . and when it was all over we looked back and laughed.

There is too much to say about our advisor, Mr. Kirk, who did more for us than can be written on any one of these yearbook pages. We can neither praise him highly enough, — nor say thank you enough times.

As editors, we became close enough to the Tekoa staff to realize and implement the talents of these staff members. We hope that you have enjoyed this book, almost as much as we enjoyed working with the people who created it.
